Plant a tree upon the birth of each grandchild, and then take a picture of it each year to mark your grandchild’s birthday. Devise a secret handshake with your grandchild. Watch a sunset with your grandchild and listen to his or her thoughts. Encourage grandchildren who live far away to write to you by sending them stamped and addressed postcards. Vicki Lansky’s bestselling books include 101 Ways to Make Your Child Feel Special, 101 Ways to Tell Your Child I Love You, 101 Ways to Be a Special Dad, 101 Ways to Be a Special Mom, and the Practical Parenting Series, which together have sold more than three million copies.

My Personal Review:
This is a great gift! I would recommend it for any grandparent, here’s why:

Cute: grandparents love cute things

Cheap: even if it’s not used for information, its cheap enough to make the cute factor pay off the whole of the price

Useful: it really does have good ways to spoil your grandchild

I bought this book for my grandma, and she loved it because it’s cute... the only problem is she hasn’t really been spoiling me with it... I think it’s because she must not really know how to read. I KNOW she loves me and we all know love = money, so it must not be that, so I think it’s a reading problem. I also think that’s why she laughed when she opened it, now I know it was a Nervous laugh! because she can’t read. Some of you reading this may think its mean to say all this about my grandma whom I love, but just don’t tell her (Jeanette Ross), we all know she won’t be able to read it herself anyway. Maybe someday she’ll learn her letters. Which makes me wonder, if when you die, you go to heaven, if you couldn’t read before, do they teach you? Do you magically know? What about Chinese people? Can you talk to them in heaven? Do they get taught English or do you get taught Chinese? Or is there a Heaven Language? If there is a Heaven Language, what is the closest one on earth to it? Is the Heaven Language the one Adam and Eve spoke, or did they speak something different? I cant wait to die and find all this out!
