Did you know that when a spiders web is damaged, a spider will often eat the remaining silk before making a new one? Young children will make many amazing discoveries in this intriguing tale of a day in the life of a spider.

My Personal Review:
This line of childrens books are amazing. Each one begins with the question, Are you a Spider? or slug or bee or whatever. It continues, If you are, then you were born like this, and you grow up like such, and this is how you catch your food and on through the life cycle. They are very simple to read, yet very educational and very funny. At the end the book concludes that the reader is, in fact, probably not a spider, but a human boy or girl, and, thankfully, will never, ever, have to wrap up a bug and eat it! The last 2 pages contain fun and interesting facts about spiders. After reading this one I immediately went out and bought every book in the series for my niece. They will be suitable to be read to children too young to read themselves, but also for children of all ages. This is the kind of book you will discover in your attic 20 years later, and still enjoy re-reading.
