Counting Creatures: Pop-up Animals from 1 to 100 by David Pelham

Colorful, Imaginative, Great For All Ages!

In this long-awaited companion book to the best-selling A Is for Animals from renowned paper engineer David Pelham and daughter Sophie, creatures of all shapes and sizes pop up -- ready to be counted. A mix of exotic creatures including fruit bats, fiddler crabs, and one hundred humans pop up from under the twenty-eight peekaboo flaps. After twenty, the creatures are illustrated in groups of ten for easy counting all the way to the end. The brilliant design, contrasting panels of bright color and masterful paper engineering make this the perfect teaching tool for young pop-up fans.

My Personal Review:
This is a wonderful book to read to your kids. Each page has two flaps to open w/ creatures that pop up inside. There aren't really 100 because once you get to 20 it goes by 10s. There's a nice variety of creatures from the obvious (tigers, wolves, snakes, etc) to the more obscure (aphids, thrushes, needlefish, and fiddler crabs). Definitely a favorite for my 2 year old son (w/ supervision of course).
