The people of Aramanth are finally free of the Morah, the evil power that controlled them for generations. But a ruthless attack by soldiers from a distant land destroys the city, and its people are driven off as slaves. During the invasion, Kestrel and Bowman are separated for the first time in their lives. Bowman becomes a slave of the Mastery. Kestrel escapes, then sets off to avenge the enslavement of her family. As the twins embark on their parallel adventures, their mothers' prophetic dreams reveal their true identity and their dangerous fate. Bowmans mind power and Kestrels fierce spirit are soon joined once again to fight for the freedom of their people.

My Personal Review:
I got this book a couple of days ago and I enjoyed reading it. I would recommend this book to 7th and 8th graders. It was a book that I couldn't put down. The characters were the best, but they didn't have a lot of description. They did have a lot of emotion and feel. My favorite character Mumpo was odd but kind-hearted. I also loved the setting of the book. It's such a beautiful and wonderful place. This is a book perfect for enjoyment and as a book report. I really liked the book but the beginning was a little bit on the down side. The middle and end was great. I hope everyone who reads this review also reads the book. This book was a number one book because of its emotional feel on me and it's a very addicting to read. I can't wait to read the next book. Remember never judge a book by its cover.
