The Angels of Morgan Hill (Women of Faith Fiction) by Donna VanLiere

Heart Touching Story

From Donna VanLiere—the author of the beloved Christmas Hope series—comes a moving novel of faith, family, and destiny.

You might think that what you’re about to read has a great deal to do with my father and growing up poor in east Tennessee, but there is so much more—what captured my heart was the hope of belonging and the dream of family. The woman I am has a great deal to do with that ninth year of my life. It started out as any other year, nothing extraordinary, but as each day unfolded it became remarkable in every way. There are times when I’m still amazed we made it through. It has been said that every life has a story. This is my story….--From the Prologue

Jane Gable thinks 1947 will be like every other year in Morgan Hill, Tennessee but but it’s the year everything changes. Jane first lays eyes on young Milo Turner the day that her abusive, alcoholic father is buried in the Morgan Hill cemetery. The Turners are the first black family ever to move into the area, and while their presence challenges the comfort of many in the small, tight-knit community, Jane and her brother, John, have found new friends.

Then tragedy strikes the Turner household, and the Gable family is asked to make a decision that could rip their world apart. One path might open up a whole new world and bring them closer than ever. Or it might bring them nothing but trouble and heartache. On their journey, Jane discovers that angels are all around us, every day, in the most extraordinary—and ordinary—ways.
The Angels of Morgan Hill is filled with unforgettable characters who show us the ways and means of the heart and prove that even in the darkest hours, we are never truly alone.

My Personal Review:
The Angels of Morgan Hill is a wonderful story concerning the will and determination of one lady to keep her promise regardless of what she has to deal with. It is a heart touching story regarding the lives of a white and colored family and the final fate of a little boy left alone coping with life under strange and trying circumstances. It will make you laugh and also cry, and you will feel like you are part of the story. I have purchased several of Donna VanLiere books, and I would recommend any of them. I look forward to reading any new ones she may write and publish.
